TAKE LONE TREE HILL

RUSSIANS CAPTURE AN IMPORTANT POSITION FROM THE JAPANESE ARMY.

AGAIN TAKE THE OFFENSIVE

KUROPATKIN'S TROOPS RESUME THEIR INTERRUPTED ADVANCE SOUTHWARD.

ARMY MAY BE IN DANGER

ADVANCE FORCE OF RUSSIANS MAY BE CUT OFF FROM LINE OF RETREAT.

St. Petersburg has been cheered by the report that General Kuropatkin has resumed the offensive and by the news of the defeat of the Japanese command of General Yamada and the capture of Lone Tree hill, which is represented to be the key to the position on the southwest fronts of the contending armies. If the report of the advance is authentic and the Russians have crossed to the south side of the Shakhe river, a later rise in the stream may have produced conditions seriously threatening failure of General Kuropatkin's plans, for it is believed the advance force will be cut off from the reserves and the base of supplies and retreat rendered problematical. It is, however, questionable if the advance movement had proceeded to the point indicated. There seems no immediate prospect of a cessation of the fighting that has been in progress for the past ten days, although there are signs that on both sides the supply of ammunition is falling short, and that the limit of endurance in the troops must have been nearly reached.

RUSSIANS ADVANCING

SAID TO HAVE DRIVEN BACK THE JAPANESE LEFT FLANK WITH HEAVY LOSSES.

Mukden, Oct. 19.—It is reported that the Russian army is advancing. Rain is hindering everything. The rivers are bank full and the fords are impassable. There are no bridges. Supplies of all sorts are delayed. Cossacks brought in captured guns and Japanese wounded prisoners on Oct. 17. Russian soldiers surrounded the prisoners and gave them bread and water and in other ways tried to relieve their wants. News has just been received that the Japanese left flank has been driven back with heavy loss, and its retreat cut off. A Russian regiment is now being hurried to the scene in the hope of completing the rout.

An officer who has just returned from General Mischenko's division reports that a sanguinary fight has taken place at Laikhezi, fifteen miles south-east of Shakhe, to which fort General Mischenko retired in order to preserve communications between the Russian center and eastern flank. The Japanese made a determined effort to cut the line of communication at this point and attacked under cover of a terrific cannonade. Out of one company of a Russian rifle brigade only fifty men were left. Two companies that had expended their ammunition prior to the last Japanese attack lay in the trenches until the Japanese were within a few paces. Then the Russians hurled a volley of stones, charged and broke the attacking line, compelling the Japanese to flee. There was fighting Tuesday on both sides of the Great Mandarin road. General Kuropatkin is indefatigable, personally directing the forward operations. Nothing seems to affect him, but he wears his usual quiet smile under all circumstances. The last Japanese defenders of Lone Tree hill, two artillery officers, refused quarter and died fighting with their swords beside their guns.

ADVANCE TAKEN SERIOUSLY.

Japs Did Not Look Upon Russian Move as a Bluff.

Mukden, Oct. 19.—The continual vigilance of the combatants, and especially the serious acceptance by the Japanese army of the Russian advance, promises further fighting, although there has been already nine days of unprecedented and exhaustive conflict. The Japanese have been alternately testing the Russian center and right flank, holding the Russians in a monotonous and bitter day to day resistance on the line of contact. The Japanese apparently feared that the Russian advance would develop a superior force of reserves. The duration of the contest already exceeds by several days the common prophesies, as it was believed that neither side was capable of such expenditure of men and munitions, which already is in excess of all the previous fighting within twenty-five miles of Liaoyang. The floods have subsided. The army is so near that the environs of the city have been depopulated. All the roads are crowded with army traffic.

The fighting on Oct. 16 was most severe. Already the casualties reported are so great as to confirm the declaration of the leaders that the present conflict would be the bloodiest in history. It is not possible to make any close estimate of Russian casualties. The Russians appear to hold positions in the plain along the Shakhe river, extending from the railway to the pass, beginning at the mountains; but the bitterness and tenacity of the fight indicate certain situations in the Eastern army about which little is known.

IN SPIKE OF AWFUL SLAUGHTER.

Japs Desperately Assault Russians on Lone Tree Hill.

Mukden, Oct. 19.—Lone Tree hill, won by the Russians after a desperate struggle, was the object of a gallant but unsuccessful attempt at recapture by the Japanese. In spite of the awful slaughter with which they had been driven from the hill, the Japanese returned on Oct. 17, recognizing that the hill was the key to the position on the southwest front. Nine regiments participated, creeping up through the night and delivering a furious assault at dawn. But the hill had been bought too dearly by the Russians to relinquish it and the Japanese were driven back with terrible slaughter. It is reported that General Mischenko's Cossacks under command of Adjutant Gavriloff, were engaged in a hot fight on Oct. 17 towards the south-east. A Cossack horse battery silenced the Japanese guns and drove back several infantry battalions, but were unable to capture the guns, which the Japanese succeeded in carrying off.

After a threatening day the Japanese at 11 o'clock on the night of Oct. 16 rushed the village of Linchenpo and now occupy the raised temple quadrangle near Linchenpo, the only eminence for miles around and which affords an unusual advantage for observation and artillery fire against the Russian right. Several attempts to dislodge them have failed.

Shakhe station, or all that is left of it, has been recaptured by the Russians, who will shortly reopen it for railway traffic with Mukden.

TWO THOUSAND A DAY.

Losses of Combatants in Nine Days of Fighting.

Mukden, Oct. 19.—The fighting of Oct. 17 was confined to the Russian center at Shakhe river and was mostly artillery fire, the Japanese using big guns and high explosive shells. During the nine days of continuous fighting the losses were never less than 2,000 per day. The hospitals are hardly able to handle the wounded. Nevertheless they have performed wonders.

The Chinese have deserted all the villages and the troops are using the woodwork of their houses for fuel. The country south is desolated. The Japanese still seem to be exerting themselves to force the Russians out of Mukden. A battle is assured in the positions surrounding the town.

It becomes more and more evident that the resources of the country cannot support a large army. This season's crops are spoiled.

General Kuropatkin remains with the troops, having abandoned his headquarters at Mukden.

As this dispatch is filed, Tuesday evening, the Russians are retaining the ground gained at the Shakhe river. Several Maxim's have been captured. The firing ceased after dark Tuesday.

CRUISER BAYAN SUNK

RUSSIAN WARSHIP AT PORT ARTHUR A VICTIM OF JAPANESE ARTILLERY FIRE.

London, Oct. 19.—A dispatch from Shanghai to the Morning Post says it is reported there that Japanese shells have sunk the Russian cruiser Bayan in the harbor of Port Arthur.

PRESENTS AWFUL SPECTACLE.

Battlefield of Lone Tree Hill Piled High With Dead.

Fifty-six miles East of Shakhe, Oct. 19.—Fighting still continues on almost the whole front. The Japanese have made an unsuccessful attempt to recapture Lone Tree hill. The Russian infantry met several attacks and repulsed them all. There was a terrific cannonading Monday night. Everyone is terribly exhausted, but full of fight.

The battlefield of Lone Tree hill presents the most awful spectacle that can be conceived. The Russian and Japanese dead are mingled in heaps in inextricable confusion. The ground is strewn with broken rifles that had been smashed in hand to hand fighting. Everything seems to have been utilized as weapons. The Russian doctors are working heroically on the slopes of the hill in the attempt to save those few injured who still survive, but the Japanese keep up a sniping fire and render the work of relief difficult and dangerous.

The fighting Tuesday slackened considerably owing to rain and the impassable condition of the roads.

Tobacco Factory Burned.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 19.—The R. A. Patterson tobacco factory was practically destroyed by fire last night. Loss, $100,000. The fire is thought to have been due to spontaneous combustion.

Heavy Loss by Fire.

New York, Oct. 19.—Fire last night destroyed the works of the Anchor Rubber Tire company at Setauket, L. I. The loss is estimated at $200,000. The cause of the fire is not known.

SINKS IN BAD STORM

CUNARD LINE STEAMSHIP SAID TO HAVE GONE DOWN OFF SPANISH COAST.

OVER TWO THOUSAND DEAD

ILL-FATED VESSEL REPORTED TO HAVE CARRIED TWENTY-TWO HUNDRED PEOPLE.

ALL ARE REPORTED MISSING

NOT ONE OF THE PASSENGERS OR CREW THOUGHT TO HAVE ESCAPED DEATH.

London, Oct. 19.—A Vienna dispatch to the London Standard this morning gives a rumor current in that city that a Cunard steamship from Flume, with 2,200 immigrants on board, has sunk off the Spanish coast. A fierce storm was raging at the time.

The Standard has no confirmation of the report, but gives it for what it is worth. Flume is in the Adriatic sea and is Hungary's only port.

THREE PERSONS KILLED.

Fifteen Others Wounded in Fight With Mexican Bandits.

Mexico City, Oct. 19.—Three persons killed and fifteen more or less seriously injured, is the story of an encounter between soldiers and brigands in this federal district Tuesday. The dead are: Laurino Frias, Santa Julia; Nestor Flores, bandit; and unknown soldier.

Crazed with drink, the desperadoes, Flores, Salento and Herrera, went to the residence of Vincente Godinez at Santa Julia, a northern suburb of this city, and called for Godinez. When he issued from the house accompanied by Laurino Frias, a servant, the bandits opened fire upon them. Frias was instantly killed and Godinez badly wounded.

When news of the tragedy reached the authorities of the city, twelve rurales were at once dispatched to a plantation whither it was learned the desperadoes had fled. A pitched battle ensued, over 100 shots being exchanged, during which one soldier was killed. Flores was finally killed and Salento captured after receiving several wounds. Herrera, though badly injured, succeeded in making his escape to the hills and a posse is now after him.

Leonardo Enriquez, a civilian, who accompanied the rurales was shot eight times and has little chance for recovery. Nearly every soldier in the squadron was wounded.

AMES TRIAL DRAWING TO CLOSE.

Third Jury Will Pass Upon Evidence in the Case.

Minneapolis, Oct. 19.—A jury today will for the third time retire to deliberate upon the evidence in the case of the state against Dr. Albert A. Ames, former mayor of this city, one jury having already found him guilty of bribery and another having disagreed.

The only defense in this trial is a denial with exceptions. While at the other trials, ex-Mayor Ames has denied any knowledge of graft being collected, he was made to admit that he knew what the money was being collected for and from whom. At other trials collection of graft from women was never brought directly home to Ames except by accomplices. In this case there has been corroboration by P. H. Boutelle, by his brother, Fred Ames, who is now a convict.

The attorney for the state immediately began his address to the jury at the close of the evidence. He will conclude today and the case will probably go to the jury before night.

PROCTOR GETS ANOTHER TERM.

Vermont Senator Is Re-Elected by the Legislature.

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 19.—Senator Redfield Proctor was re-elected to the United States senate by the Vermont legislature Tuesday in separate session. The election will be officially confirmed today, when the two branches meet in joint session.

In the upper branch of the legislature every vote cast was for Senator Proctor, but in the house the Democrats supported their candidate, John H. Senter of this city, who received 31 out of 236 votes cast.

Little Child Burned to Death.

Hartington, Neb., Oct. 19.—Doris Barnhart, aged two years, was burned to death and Hazel Barnhart, an older sister, and Dora Felbert, a young woman, were fatally burned here Tuesday by an explosion following an attempt to light the kitchen fire with kerosene.

Iowa Bank Robbed.

Avery Center, Ia., Oct. 19.—Burglars have blown the safe of the private bank operated by Thomas Rye of this place, and made away with the contents, estimated at several hundred dollars. Bloodhounds were unable to follow the scent.

OVER FOUR THOUSAND DEAD.

Japanese Left Army Alone Buried That Many Russians.

Headquarters of General Oku's Left Army, Oct. 16, via Fusan, Oct. 19.—Since Sunday last the Japanese Left army has buried 4,100 Russian dead. It is estimated that the Russian casualties are from 20,000 to 25,000. The Japanese report their casualties at about 2,000. Early this morning the Japanese continued to advance, driving the Russians before them, and captured two guns and many rifles. At 7:30 this morning the Russians attempted to recapture Lamuntung, but were repulsed with heavy loss. The battle there is over.

PURCHASING FAST CRUISERS.

Russia Will Get Seven From South American Countries.

London, Oct. 18.—The Daily Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent gives credit to the report that Russia is purchasing seven fast cruisers, three each from Chile and Argentina, and one from Brazil.

GIVEN TEN YEARS IN PRISON.

Iowan Acknowledges Embezzlement of $125,000.

Davenport, Ia., Oct. 19.—Ex-Mayor S. F. Smith of this city, son of Samuel Francis Smith, author of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," stood before the district court during the morning to receive sentences, one for embezzlement and one for perjury. Smith was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in the penitentiary at Anamosa. As trustee of large estates Smith recently acknowledged embezzlement of $120,000.

Denounced By Indian Agent.

Washington, Oct. 19.—The method of selecting of swamp lands in ceded Indian reservations by the state of Minnesota is denounced in severe terms by Major Scott, Indian agent at Leech lake, in his annual report to the commissioner of Indian affairs.

Shaw and Littauer Talk.

Saratoga, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw and Congressman Lucius N. Littauer last night addressed one of the largest Republican mass meetings ever held here.

Minneapolis, Oct. 19.—A jury today will for the third time retire to deliberate upon the evidence in the case of the state against Dr. Albert A. Ames, former mayor of this city, one jury having already found him guilty of bribery and another having disagreed.

The only defense in this trial is a denial with exceptions. While at the other trials, ex-Mayor Ames has denied any knowledge of graft being collected, he was made to admit that he knew what the money was being collected for and from whom. At other trials collection of graft from women was never brought directly home to Ames except by accomplices. In this case there has been corroboration by P. H. Boutelle, by his brother, Fred Ames, who is now a convict.

The attorney for the state immediately began his address to the jury at the close of the evidence. He will conclude today and the case will probably go to the jury before night.

PROCTOR GETS ANOTHER TERM.

Vermont Senator Is Re-Elected by the Legislature.

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 19.—Senator Redfield Proctor was re-elected to the United States senate by the Vermont legislature Tuesday in separate session. The election will be officially confirmed today, when the two branches meet in joint session.

In the upper branch of the legislature every vote cast was for Senator Proctor, but in the house the Democrats supported their candidate, John H. Senter of this city, who received 31 out of 236 votes cast.

OVER FOUR THOUSAND DEAD.

Japanese Left Army Alone Buried That Many Russians.

Headquarters of General Oku's Left Army, Oct. 16, via Fusan, Oct. 19.—Since Sunday last the Japanese Left army has buried 4,100 Russian dead. It is estimated that the Russian casualties are from 20,000 to 25,000. The Japanese report their casualties at about 2,000. Early this morning the Japanese continued to advance, driving the Russians before them, and captured two guns and many rifles.

At 7:30 this morning the Russians attempted to recapture Lamuntung, but were repulsed with heavy loss. The battle there is over.

PURCHASING FAST CRUISERS.

Russia Will Get Seven From South American Countries.

London, Oct. 18.—The Daily Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent gives credit to the report that Russia is purchasing seven fast cruisers, three each from Chile and Argentina, and one from Brazil.

GIVEN TEN YEARS IN PRISON.

Iowan Acknowledges Embezzlement of $125,000.

Davenport, Ia., Oct. 19.—Ex-Mayor S. F. Smith of this city, son of Samuel Francis Smith, author of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," stood before the district court during the morning to receive sentences, one for embezzlement and one for perjury. Smith was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in the penitentiary at Anamosa. As trustee of large estates Smith recently acknowledged embezzlement of $125,000.

Denounced By Indian Agent.

Washington, Oct. 19.—The method of selecting of swamp lands in ceded Indian reservations by the state of Minnesota is denounced in severe terms by Major Scott, Indian agent at Leech lake, in his annual report to the commissioner of Indian affairs.

TAKE LONE TREE HILL

RUSSIANS CAPTURE AN IMPORTANT POSITION FROM THE JAPANESE ARMY.

AGAIN TAKE THE OFFENSIVE

KUROPATKIN'S TROOPS RESUME THEIR INTERRUPTED ADVANCE SOUTHWARD.

ARMY MAY BE IN DANGER

ADVANCE FORCE OF RUSSIANS MAY BE CUT OFF FROM LINE OF RETREAT.

St. Petersburg has been cheered by the report that General Kuropatkin has resumed the offensive and by the news of the defeat of the Japanese command of General Yamada and the capture of Lone Tree Hill, which is represented to be the key to the position on the southwest fronts of the contending armies. If the report of the advance is authentic and the Russians have crossed to the south side of the Shakhe river, a later rise in the stream may have produced conditions seriously threatening failure of General Kuropatkin's plans, for, it is believed, the advance force will be cut off from the reserves and the base of supplies and retreat rendered problematical. It is, however, questionable if the advance movement had proceeded to the point indicated. There seems no immediate prospect of a cessation of the fighting that has been in progress for the past ten days, although there are signs that on both sides the supply of ammunition is falling short, and that the limit of endurance in the troops must have been nearly reached.

RUSSIANS ADVANCING

SAID TO HAVE DRIVEN BACK THE JAPANESE LEFT FLANK WITH HEAVY LOSSES.

Mukden, Oct. 19.—It is reported that the Russian army is advancing. Rain is hindering everything. The rivers are bank full and the fords are impassable. There are no bridges. Supplies of all sorts are delayed. Cossacks brought in captured guns and Japanese wounded prisoners on Oct. 17. Russian soldiers surrounded the prisoners and gave them bread and water and in other ways tried to relieve their wants. News has just been received that the Japanese left flank has been driven back with heavy loss, and its retreat cut off. A Russian regiment is now being hurried to the scene in the hope of completing the rout.

An officer who has just returned from General Mischenko's division reports that a sanguinary fight has taken place at Laikhezi, fifteen miles southeast of Shakhe, to which fort General Mischenko retired in order to preserve communications between the Russian center and eastern flank. The Japanese made a determined effort to cut the line of communication at this point and attacked under cover of a terrific cannonade. Out of one company of a Russian rifle brigade only fifty men were left. Two companies that had expended their ammunition prior to the last Japanese attack lay in the trenches until the Japanese were within a few paces. Then the Russians hurled a volley of stones, charged and broke the attacking line, compelling the Japanese to flee.

There was fighting Tuesday on both sides of the Great Mandarin road. General Kuropatkin is indefatigable, personally directing the forward operations. Nothing seems to affect him, but he wears his usual quiet smile under all circumstances. The last Japanese defenders of Lone Tree hill, two artillery officers, refused quarter and died fighting with their swords beside their guns.

ADVANCE TAKEN SERIOUSLY.

Japs Did Not Look Upon Russian Move as a Bluff.

Mukden, Oct. 19.—The continual vigilance of the combatants, and especially the serious acceptance by the Japanese army of the Russian advance, promises further fighting, although there has been already nine days of unprecedented and exhaustive conflict. The Japanese have been alternately testing the Russian center and right flank, holding the Russians in a monotonous and bitter day to day resistance on the line of contact. The Japanese apparently feared that the Russian advance would develop a superior force of reserves. The duration of the contest already exceeds by several days the common prophecies, as it was believed that neither side was capable of such expenditure of men and munitions, which already is in excess of all the previous fighting within twenty-five miles of Liaoyang. The floods have subsided. The army is so near that the environs of the city have been depopulated. All the roads are crowded with army traffic.

The fighting on Oct. 18 was most severe. Already the casualties reported are so great as to confirm the declaration of the leaders that the present conflict would be the bloodiest in history. It is not possible to make any close estimate of Russian casualties. The Russians appear to hold positions in the plain along the Shakhe river, extending from the railway to Da pass, beginning at the mountains; but the bitterness and tenacity of the fight indicate certain situations in the Eastern army about which little is known.

IN SPIKE OF AWFUL SLAUGHTER.

Japs Desperately Assault Russians on Lone Tree Hill.

Mukden, Oct. 19.—Lone Tree hill, won by the Russians after a desperate struggle, was the object of a gallant but unsuccessful attempt at recapture by the Japanese. In spite of the awful slaughter with which they had been driven from the hill, the Japanese returned to the charge during the night of Oct. 17, recognizing that the hill was the key to the position on the southwest front. Nine regiments participated, creeping up through the night and delivering a furious assault at dawn. But the hill had been bought too dearly by the Russians to relinquish it and the Japanese were driven back with terrible slaughter.

It is reported that General Mischenko's Cossacks under command of Adjutant Gavriloff, were engaged in a hot fight on Oct. 17 towards the southeast. A Cossack horse battery silenced several Japanese guns and drove back several Japanese battalions, but were unable to capture the guns, which the Japanese succeeded in carrying off.

After a threatening day the Japanese at 11 o'clock on the night of Oct. 16 rushed the village of Linchenpo and now occupy the raised temple quadrangle near Linchenpo, the only eminence for miles around and which affords an unusual advantage for observation and artillery fire against the Russian right. Several attempts to dislodge them have failed.

Shakhe station, or all that is left of it, has been recaptured by the Russians, who will shortly reopen it for railway traffic with Mukden.

TWO THOUSAND A DAY.

Losses of Combatants in Nine Days of Fighting.

Mukden, Oct. 19.—The fighting of Oct. 17 was confined to the Russian center at Shakhe river and was mostly artillery fire, the Japanese using big guns and high explosive shells. During the nine days of continuous fighting the losses were never less than 2,000 per day. The hospitals are hardly able to handle the wounded. Nevertheless they have performed wonders.

The Chinese have deserted all the villages and the troops are using the woodwork of their houses for fuel. The country south is desolated. The Japanese still seem to be exerting themselves to force the Russians out of Mukden. A battle is assured in the positions surrounding the town.

It becomes more and more evident that the resources of the country cannot support a large army. This season's crops are spoiled.

General Kuropatkin remains with the troops, having abandoned his headquarters at Mukden.

As this dispatch is filed, Tuesday evening, the Russians are retaining the ground gained at the Shakhe river. Several Maxim's have been captured. The firing ceased after dark Tuesday.

CRUISER BAYAN SUNK

RUSSIAN WARSHIP AT PORT ARTHUR A VICTIM OF JAPANESE ARTILLERY FIRE.

London, Oct. 19.—A dispatch from Shanghai to the Morning Post says it is reported there that Japanese shells have sunk the Russian cruiser Bayan in the harbor of Port Arthur.

PRESENTS AWFUL SPECTACLE.

Battlefield of Lone Tree Hill Piled High With Dead.

Fidyatun, Six Miles East of Shakhe, Oct. 19.—Fighting still continues on almost the whole front. The Japanese have made an unsuccessful attempt to recapture Lone Tree hill. The Russian infantry met several attacks and repulsed them all. There was a terrific cannonading Monday night. Everyone is terribly exhausted, but full of fight.

The battlefield of Lone Tree hill presents the most awful spectacle that can be conceived. The Russian and Japanese dead are mingled in heaps in inextricable confusion. The ground is strewn with broken rifles that had been smashed in hand to hand fighting. Everything seems to have been utilized as weapons. The Russian doctors are working heroically on the slopes of the hill in the attempt to save those few injured who still survive, but the Japanese keep up a sniping fire and render the work of relief difficult and dangerous.

The fighting Tuesday slackened considerably owing to rain and the impassable condition of the roads.

Tobacco Factory Burned.

Heavy Loss by Fire.

New York, Oct. 19.—Fire last night destroyed the works of the Anchor Rubber Tire company at Setauket, L. I. The loss is estimated at $200,000. The cause of the fire is not known.

SINKS IN BAD STORM

CUNARD LINE STEAMSHIP SAID TO HAVE GONE DOWN OFF SPANISH COAST.

OVER TWO THOUSAND DEAD

ILL-FATED VESSEL REPORTED TO HAVE CARRIED TWENTY-TWO HUNDRED PEOPLE.

ALL ARE REPORTED MISSING

NOT ONE OF THE PASSENGERS OR CREW THOUGHT TO HAVE ESCAPED DEATH.

London, Oct. 19.—A Vienna dispatch to the London Standard this morning gives a rumor current in that city that a Cunard steamship from Fiume, with 2,200 immigrants on board, has sunk off the Spanish coast. A fierce storm was raging at the time.

The Standard has no confirmation of the report, but gives it for what it is worth. Fiume is in the Adriatic sea and is Hungary's only port.

THREE PERSONS KILLED.

Fifteen Others Wounded in Fight With Mexican Bandits.

Mexico City, Oct. 19.—Three persons killed and fifteen more or less seriously injured, is the story of an encounter between soldiers and brigands in this federal district Tuesday. The dead are: Laurino Frias, Santa Julia; Nestor Flores, bandit; and unknown soldier.

Crazed with drink, the desperadoes, Flores, Saledo and Herrera, went to the residence of Vincente Godinez at Santa Julia, a northern suburb of this city, and called for Godinez. When he issued from the house accompanied by Laurino Frias, a servant, the bandits opened fire upon them. Frias was instantly killed and Godinez badly wounded.

When news of the tragedy reached the authorities of the city, twelve rurales were at once dispatched to a plantation whither it was learned the desperadoes had fled. A pitched battle ensued, over 100 shots being exchanged, during which one soldier was killed. Flores was finally killed and Saledo captured after receiving several wounds. Herrera, though badly injured, succeeded in making his escape to the hills and a posse is now after him.

Leonardo Enriquez, a civilian, who accompanied the rurales was shot eight times and has little chance for recovery. Nearly every soldier in the squadron was wounded.

AMES TRIAL DRAWING TO CLOSE.

Two additional rural routes have been secured by Congressman Buckman for Morrison county.

SENATOR CLAPP is doing effective work for the republican ticket and will speak at Royalton tomorrow night.

Any workingman who is susceptible of conviction and who remembers the soup house days of the Cleveland administration ought not to find it hard to vote right at the coming election.

THE last day for registration before the election is Tuesday Nov. 1. Your name and the name of your friends should be on the list if not already there and voters should see to it that they have not been overlooked.

THE county ticket placed before the voters for their consideration by the republicans commends itself to every citizen and tax payer in Crow Wing county. It is a clean, honest ticket from top to bottom and should be elected with a rush.

IT HAS BEEN remarked on several occasions that a good many traveling men are opposed to R. C. Dunn for governor, and the Grey Eagle Gazette says that this is because the big wholesale houses for which they travel are opposed to Dunn owing to the fact that when the present candidate for governor was state auditor he compelled them to pay their just taxes and as governor he would be in a position to demand that they stand an equal share of the burden of taxation along with the common people.

IN THE election of a state senator the people of this district should consider the fact that if a republican is elected he will be a member of the dominant party and will be in a position to do for them what a man elected as a democrat could not accomplish. The coming legislature will be overwhelmingly republican, and in the make up of committees the republican members will receive recognition that those of the opposite party could not expect. While there is no reason to think that the entire republican legislative ticket will not be elected it is well for the voters to keep these matters in mind.

THE democratic press of the state in order to make it appear that there is great disaffection in the republican party, are running scurrilous articles signed "a prominent republican," when in fact these articles are written by the democratic editor in order to blind the reader to the real issue. The fact that these articles do not appear over the signature of the writer is sufficient evidence that they are not genuine, for a man be he "a prominent republican" or "a prominent democrat" who is anxious to express an opinion in public print is willing to accompany it with his signature that it may carry weight with it. There are a few prominent republicans who are manufacturing material for the democrats but they are mostly those who have an axe to grind.

WHEN Congressman Buckman was elected to represent this district in the lower house there were but 42 rural mail routes in operation in the Sixth district and during his first term he succeeded in securing 123 new routes, a record not equaled by any man in a similar position. Congressman Buckman was elected two years ago by nearly 5,000 majority and this year it is confidently expected that the majority will be largely increased for his constituents appreciate the good work done by him and know that he will be in a position to accomplish more during his second term than he did as a new member. His record will bear the closest scrutiny and will show that he labored earnestly for the interests of his constituents, and the appreciation shown by the handsome majority he received in the district at the primary election is an indication that his vote on Nov. 8th will be largely increased over that accorded him two years ago.

IT is to be hoped that ever voter who casts his ballot for the reelection of President Roosevelt will also vote for the election of a republican representative in congress. The welfare of the country demands the reelection of the republican candidate for president and it will follow as day follows night. The election of a republican house is equally as important, for without the backing of congress a republican president would be helpless and could not carry out the principles of the party. It therefore follows that if you believe in republican principles and cast your vote to elect a republican president you should so vote as to fortify him in his position. If a democratic house should be elected his hands are tied. In Minnesota it is confidently expected that every district will return a republican congressman, but in order to make the matter doubly sure the friends of President Roosevelt—and he will receive over 75,000 majority in Minnesota—should see that they follow up the vote for him by a vote for the men the party has placed in nomination to back up the president in the policy to which the party is committed.

ENDORING THE RECORD.
The consistent republican is the one who is supporting the republican nominee for governor. It was not longer than two years, and at the time State Auditor Dunn was about to retire from office, that the party leaders were singing the praises of that official for the able manner in which he handled the state lands and the timber trespass cases. What a splendid administration that had been, and especially when compared with his democratic predecessor, Mr. Bierman. Where there had been looseness and incompetency under Bierman, integrity and order had come under Dunn. The affairs of the office had been conducted in a business like manner by Mr. Dunn. Where the former auditor had collected but a mere pittance for timber trespasses some two hundred thousand dollars were now turned into the state's treasury, and republicans and democrats alike said well done. Even the democratic governor, John Lind, took occasion to compliment a republican state auditor on the satisfactory condition of affairs in his office. And the collection of this great sum from timber trespassers, where before the state had received practically nothing for the timber stolen, was but one of many other ways in which Auditor Dunn's administration had distinguished itself. The record of that state department was a most convincing argument in favor of republican rule in Minnesota and it won thousands of votes. If it was a good argument then at the close of Auditor Dunn's last term of office it is a good argument today unless controverted by more reliable evidence of misdoing than that presented by Public Examiner Johnson, whose many reports stand today discredited in the eyes of the people of this state. Having failed to make out a case against ex-Auditor Dunn, the public examiner now attempts to fortify his position by attacking Auditor Iverson, insinuating that the present auditor is not honest. All who know Mr. Iverson recognize in him one of the most honorable and reliable officials ever elected in Minnesota, a man whose reputation is above reproach and whose character will remain untarnished by the insinuations of the public examiner. No better proof of the completeness of Mr. Dunn's defense could be furnished than this frantic effort of the public examiner to fortify himself by discrediting the former deputy, and now State Auditor Samuel G. Iverson. It only proves to what desperate straits the public examiner has been reduced in his attempt to bolster up his former erroneous statements of Mr. Dunn's administration. Since the public examiner has failed to make out his case we stand where he did two years ago, endorsing the record of Robert C. Dunn.—Alexandria Post-News.

I have been weak and sickly for the past four years, caused by irregularity and carelessness regarding the laws of health, but about five months ago my condition became very serious. I had severe backache and suffered a constant dull pain in my head. I spent weary, painful days, and miserable, restless nights. The doctor told me that I must have patience. His medicine did not, however, give me even temporary relief and as I had been told of the curative qualities of Wine of Cardui I decided to try it. I found that it relieved me of pain. As my general health improved my other troubles were gradually diminished and after five weeks' use of the Wine of Cardui I was once more a well and happy woman.

Temperature (Record kept by Dr. J. L. Camp from 7 a. m. yesterday morning to 7 a. m. this morning)—Maximum 59 above zero; minimum 52 above zero.

Two additional rural routes have been secured by Congressman Buckman for Morrison county.

SENATOR CLAPP is doing effective work for the republican ticket and will speak at Royalton tomorrow night.

ANY workingman who is susceptible of conviction and who remembers the soup house days of the Cleveland administration ought not to find it hard to vote right at the coming election.

THE last day for registration before the election is Tuesday Nov. 1. Your name and the name of your friends should be on the list if not already there and voters should see to it that they have not been overlooked.

THE county ticket placed before the voters for their consideration by the republicans commends itself to every citizen and tax payer in Crow Wing county. It is a clean, honest ticket from top to bottom and should be elected with a rush.

IT has been remarked on several occasions that a good many traveling men are opposed to R. C. Dunn for governor, and the Grey Eagle Gazette says that this is because the big wholesale houses for which they travel are opposed to Dunn owing to the fact that when the present candidate for governor was state auditor he compelled them to pay their just taxes and as governor he would be in a position to demand that they stand an equal share of the burden of taxation along with the common people.

IN THE election of a state senator the people of this district should consider the fact that if a republican is elected he will be a member of the dominant party and will be in a position to do for them what a man elected as a democrat could not accomplish. The coming legislature will be overwhelmingly republican, and in the make up of committees the republican members will receive recognition that those of the opposite party could not expect. While there is no reason to think that the entire republican legislative ticket will not be elected it is well for the voters to keep these matters in mind.

THE democratic press of the state in order to make it appear that there is great disaffection in the republican party, are running scurrilous articles signed "a prominent republican," when in fact these articles are written by the democratic editor in order to blind the reader to the real issue. The fact that these articles do not appear over the signature of the writer is sufficient evidence that they are not genuine, for a man be he "a prominent republican" or "a prominent democrat" who is anxious to express an opinion in public print is willing to accompany it with his signature that it may carry weight with it. There are a few prominent republicans who are manufacturing material for the democrats but they are mostly those who have an axe to grind.

WHEN Congressman Buckman was elected to represent this district in the lower house there were but 42 rural mail routes in operation in the Sixth district and during his first term he succeeded in securing 123 new routes, a record not equaled by any man in a similar position. Congressman Buckman was elected two years ago by nearly 5,000 majority and this year it is confidently expected that the majority will be largely increased for his constituents appreciate the good work done by him and know that he will be in a position to accomplish more during his second term than he did as a new member. His record will bear the closest scrutiny and will show that he labored earnestly for the interests of his constituents, and the appreciation shown by the handsome majority he received in the district at the primary election is an indication that his vote on Nov. 8th will be largely increased over that accorded him two years ago.

IT is to be hoped that ever voter who casts his ballot for the reelection of President Roosevelt will also vote for the election of a republican representative in congress. The welfare of the country demands the reelection of the republican candidate for president and it will follow as day follows night. The election of a republican house is equally as important, for without the backing of congress a republican president would be helpless and could not carry out the principles of the party. It therefore follows that if you believe in republican principles and cast your vote to elect a republican president you should so vote as to fortify him in his position. If a democratic house should be elected his hands are tied. In Minnesota it is confidently expected that every district will return a republican congressman, but in order to make the matter doubly sure the friends of President Roosevelt—and he will receive over 75,000 majority in Minnesota—should see that they follow up the vote for him by a vote for the men the party has placed in nomination to back up the president in the policy to which the party is committed.

ENDORING THE RECORD.

THE consistent republican is the one who is supporting the republican nominee for governor. It was not longer than two years, and at the time State Auditor Dunn was about to retire from office, that the party leaders were singing the praises of that official for the able manner in which he handled the state lands and the timber trespass cases. What a splendid administration that had been, and especially when compared with his democratic predecessor, Mr. Bierman. Where there had been looseness and incompetency under Bierman, integrity and order had come under Dunn. The affairs of the office had been conducted in a business like manner by Mr. Dunn. Where the former auditor had collected but a mere pittance for timber trespasses some two hundred thousand dollars were now turned into the state's treasury, and republicans and democrats alike said well done. Even the democratic governor, John Lind, took occasion to compliment a republican state auditor on the satisfactory condition of affairs in his office. And the collection of this great sum from timber trespassers, where before the state had received practically nothing for the timber stolen, was but one of many other ways in which Auditor Dunn's administration had distinguished itself. The record of that state department was a most convincing argument in favor of republican rule in Minnesota and it won thousands of votes. If it was a good argument then at the close of Auditor Dunn's last term of office it is a good argument today unless controverted by more reliable evidence of misdoing than that presented by Public Examiner Johnson, whose many reports stand today discredited in the eyes of the people of this state. Having failed to make out a case against ex-Auditor Dunn, the public examiner now attempts to fortify his position by attacking Auditor Iverson, insinuating that the present auditor is not honest. All who know Mr. Iverson recognize in him one of the most honorable and reliable officials ever elected in Minnesota, a man whose reputation is above reproach and whose character will remain untarnished by the insinuations of the public examiner. No better proof of the completeness of Mr. Dunn's defense could be furnished than this frantic effort of the public examiner to fortify himself by discrediting the former deputy, and now State Auditor Samuel G. Iverson. It only proves to what desperate straits the public examiner has been reduced in his attempt to bolster up his former erroneous statements of Mr. Dunn's administration. Since the public examiner has failed to make out his case we stand where he did two years ago, endorsing the record of Robert C. Dunn.—Alexandria Post-News.

Having failed to make out a case against ex-Auditor Dunn, the public examiner now attempts to fortify his position by attacking Auditor Iverson, insinuating that the present auditor is not honest. All who know Mr. Iverson recognize in him one of the most honorable and reliable officials ever elected in Minnesota, a man whose reputation is above reproach and whose character will remain untarnished by the insinuations of the public examiner. No better proof of the completeness of Mr. Dunn's defense could be furnished than this frantic effort of the public examiner to fortify himself by discrediting the former deputy, and now State Auditor Samuel G. Iverson. It only proves to what desperate straits the public examiner has been reduced in his attempt to bolster up his former erroneous statements of Mr. Dunn's administration. Since the public examiner has failed to make out his case we stand where he did two years ago, endorsing the record of Robert C. Dunn.—Alexandria Post-News.

Don't Neglect Yourself.

1408 Second Street, LOUISVILLE, KY., April 14, 1903.

I have been weak and sickly for the past four years, caused by irregularity and carelessness regarding the laws of health, but about five months ago my condition became very serious. I had severe backache and suffered a constant dull pain in my head. I spent weary, painful days, and miserable, restless nights. The doctor told me that I must have patience.

His medicine did not, however, give me even temporary relief and as I had been told of the curative qualities of Wine of Cardui I decided to try it. I found that it relieved me of pain. As my general health improved my other troubles were gradually diminished and after five weeks' use of the Wine of Cardui I was once more a well and happy woman.

Mrs. L. M. Thompson

WINE of CARDUI

Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow, banishes headaches, backaches and bearing-down pains. Severe headaches, bearing-down pains, indigestion, loss of appetite and nervousness are symptoms of female weakness and should be given prompt attention. If you are troubled with menstrual irregularities do not let them run on. They will certainly grow into dangerous and chronic troubles. Get a bottle of Wine of Cardui and begin treatment at once.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

IN INDIANA AND NEW YORK.

Political Situation Considered by Parker and His Advisers.

New York, Oct. 19.—The political situation in Indiana and New Jersey were the most important affairs of the Democratic campaign, considered by Judge Parker after he arrived here Tuesday.

A report was made to him concerning Indiana by Simon P. Sherin, who was secretary of the Democratic national committee in 1892. Mr. Sherin was introduced by National Chairman Taggart, who consulted with the candidate twice preliminary to leaving New York to take a hand personally in the canvass of that state. Mr. Sherin will remain in New York two or three days.

It is said the conference did much to shape the contest to be waged by Indiana Democrats for supremacy in the election. The announcement was made by Indianaians who called on Judge Parker that the prospects of carrying the state as shown by a fourth canvass are encouraging.

In New Jersey the situation is reported to be far more rosy than in any other of the doubtful states and the result more depends upon the work done in the remaining two and one-half weeks of the campaign. This was the judgment of former Senator James J. Smith, Jr., who called on Judge Parker and declared certain the election of Black for governor and predicted that the Democratic national ticket will win also.

FAIRBANKS IN NEW ENGLAND.

Republican Candidate Puts in a Busy Day.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 19.—With a speech at infantry hall in this city last night, Senator Charles W. Fairbanks, Republican candidate for vice president, ended a busy day in New England, having made brief addresses at Pittsfield, Mass.; Woonsocket and Pawtucket, where his special train stopped during the trip to this city. At each stop he was accorded a cordial reception.

The incident of the day which gave Senator Fairbanks the greatest pleasure occurred at Pawtucket, where he was met by a delegation from the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, who presented in the name of Mrs. Fairbanks, the national president of the order, a large basket of flowers.

CAMPAIGN NEARLY ENDED.

Henry G. Davis Will Soon Complete Tour of West Virginia.

Welch, W. Va., Oct. 19.—Henry G. Davis, Democratic candidate for vice president, wound up a busy day of campaigning with a rally here last night. The Bluefield meeting, which lasted for two hours, was largely attended. North Fork furnished another enthusiastic audience of proportionately large size, although in a Republican section of the state. The rally here drew a large crowd. Mr. Davis is maintaining his reputation as a continuous performer campaigner and shows no ill effects whatever from the many speeches he has delivered. The whirlwind campaign will end to-day at Kenova.

TO TAKE UP NEW DUTIES.

Rev. Washington Gladden Resigns Presidency of Mission Society.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 19.—Rev. Washington Gladden of Columbus, O., Tuesday resigned the position of president of the American Mission society, possibly the greatest home mission in the country. The new duties of moderator of the Congregational national council forced Dr. Gladden to give up the less important office.

Professor E. W. Dubois of Atlanta university created a sensation by a statement in his address that the rise and education of the ambitious young negro student is a menace to the security and class superiority of the rich, the well born and the white. It is said the negro problem is only a phase of the greater problem of class distinction.

"FOR GOOD OF THE SERVICE."

Soldier to Be Discharged Because He Married a Negress.

Washington, Oct. 19.—The surgeon general of the army has concurred in the recommendation of General Grant, that George Smith, a member of the United States army hospital corps, stationed at Fort Mott, N. J., who is said to have married a negress, be discharged from the army "for the good of the service."

This recommendation has been forwarded to the secretary of war for his action.

TWO FIREMEN INJURED.

Railroad Elevator Destroyed by Fire at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Oct. 19.—Fire which started at 3 p. m. Tuesday destroyed elevator B of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad at the foot of Eighth street, which contained 50,000 bushels of oats. Loss, estimated at $50,000. The fire spread to freight cars along the tracks and damaged several.

Firemen Dominick O'Donnell and Andrew Doyle were badly injured.

NATIVES MEET DEATH.

Severe Fighting Occurs in the Mountains of Eastern Samar.

Manila, Oct. 19.—A force under Lieutenant Pogge of the constabulary has defeated a large number of Pulahanes in the mountains of Eastern Samar, killing the notorious outlaw, Oyamo, and fifty of his followers.

Dwyer Has a Narrow Escape.

New York, Oct. 19.—Michael F. Dwyer, the well known turfman, had a narrow escape from death in East New York Tuesday when a trolley car demolished the carriage in which he was riding. Mr. Dwyer was thrown to the ground but received only a few scratches on the head and hands.

Cannon in West Virginia.

Fairmont, W. Va., Oct. 19.—Speaker Joseph G. Cannon was a busy man Tuesday. In the morning he reviewed a big parade in Morgantown and in the afternoon addressed a monster open air meeting in that town. At night he talked to a large audience in this city.

IN INDIANA AND NEW YORK.

Political Situation Considered by Parker and His Advisers.

New York, Oct. 19.—The political situation in Indiana and New Jersey were the most important affairs of the Democratic campaign, considered by Judge Parker after he arrived here Tuesday.

A report was made to him concerning Indiana by Simon P. Sherin, who was secretary of the Democratic national committee in 1892. Mr. Sherin was introduced by National Chairman Taggart, who consulted with the candidate twice preliminary to leaving New York to take a hand personally in the canvass of that state. Mr. Sherin will remain in New York two or three days.

It is said the conference did much to shape the contest to be waged by Indiana Democrats for supremacy in the election. The announcement was made by Indianapolis who called on Judge Parker and declared certain the election of Black for governor and predicted that the Democratic national ticket will win also.

In New Jersey the situation is reported to be far more complex than in any other of the doubtful states and the result more dependent upon the work done in the remaining two and one-half weeks of the campaign. This was the judgment of former Senator James J. ### FAIRBANKS IN NEW ENGLAND.

Republican Candidate Puts in a Busy Day.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 19.—With a speech at infantry hall in this city last night, Senator Charles W. Fairbanks, Republican candidate for vice president, ended a busy day in New England, having made brief addresses at Pittsfield, Mass., Woonsocket and Pawtucket, where his special train stopped during the trip to this city. At each stop he was accorded a cordial reception.

The incident of the day which gave Senator Fairbanks the greatest pleasure occurred at Pawtucket, where he was met by a delegation from the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, who presented in the name of Mrs. Fairbanks, the national president of the order, a large basket of flowers.

CAMPAIGN NEARLY ENDED.

Henry G. Davis Will Soon Complete Tour of West Virginia.

Welch, W. Va., Oct. 19.—Henry G. Davis, Democratic candidate for vice president, wound up a busy day of campaigning with a rally here last night. The Bluefield meeting, which lasted for two hours, was largely attended. North Fork furnished another enthusiastic audience of proportionately large size, although in a Republican section of the state. The rally here drew a large crowd. Mr. Davis is maintaining his reputation as a continuous performer campaigner and shows no ill effects whatever from the many speeches he has delivered. The whirlwind campaign will end today at Kenova.

TO TAKE UP NEW DUTIES.

Rev. Washington Gladden Resigns Presidency of Mission Society.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 19.—Rev. Washington Gladden of Columbus, O., Tuesday resigned the position of president of the American Mission society, possibly the greatest home mission in the country. The new duties of moderator of the Congressional national council forced Dr. Gladden to give up the less important office.

Professor E. W. Dubois of Atlanta university created a sensation by a statement in his address that the rise and education of the ambitious young negro student is a menace to the security and class superiority of the rich, the well born and the white. It is said the negro problem is only a phase of the greater problem of class distinction.

"FOR GOOD OF THE SERVICE."

Soldier to Be Discharged Because He Married a Negress.

Washington, Oct. 19.—The surgeon general of the army has concurred in the recommendation of General Grant, that George Smith, a member of the United States army hospital corps, stationed at Fort Mott, N. J., who is said to have married a negress, be discharged from the army "for the good of the service."

This recommendation has been forwarded to the secretary of war for his action.

TWO FIREMEN INJURED.

Railroad Elevator Destroyed by Fire at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Oct. 19.—Fire which started at 3 p. m. Tuesday destroyed elevator B. of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad at the foot of Eighth street, which contained 50,000 bushels of oats. Loss, estimated at $50,000. The fire spread to freight cars along the tracks and damaged several.

Firemen Dominick O'Donnell and Andrew Doyle were badly injured.

NATIVES MEET DEATH.

Severe Fighting Occurs in the Mountains of Eastern Samar.

Manila, Oct. 19.—A force under Lieutenant Pogge of the constabulary has defeated a large number of Pulajanes in the mountains of Eastern Samar, killing the notorious outlaw, Oyamo, and fifty of his followers.

Dwyer Has a Narrow Escape.

New York, Oct. 19.—Michael F. Dwyer, the well known turfman, had a narrow escape from death in East New York Tuesday when a trolley car demolished the carriage in which he was riding. Mr. Dwyer was thrown to the ground but received only a few scratches on the head and hands.

Cannon in West Virginia.

RUSSIANS ARE JOYFUL

REPORT OF KUROPATKIN'S ADVANCE AROUSES GREAT ENTHUSIASM.

SITUATION NOT VERY CLEAR

RUSSIANS MAY BE CUT OFF FROM RESERVES BY THE RAPIDLY RISING RIVERS.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 19.—There is jubilation throughout the city over the news that General Kuropatkin has resumed the offensive, and the holiday, which began with little heart, closed brighter. The crowds in the streets and the illuminations in honor of the czar's birthday gave a tinge of brilliancy to an evening otherwise depressing, through a constant drizzle of rain. Newsboys up to midnight raced through the thoroughfares with evening extras, shouting "great Russian victory" and crowds bought the papers. Groups of men in brilliant uniforms or in evening dress at the hotels and restaurants discussed the change in the fortunes of war; but the population as a whole were slow to take fire. They had received the news of the earlier reverses stolidly and now accepted reports of Russian successes and the capture of guns quietly, with satisfaction but with considerable reserve.

Arouses Great Satisfaction.
Correspondents at the front the past forty-eight hours had been hinting that the Russian army was on the eve of another advance; but it was thought here that the troops were too exhausted by more than a week of titanic struggle to engage in an immediate advance movement. Therefore the news of the definite resumption of the advance was calculated to arouse the greater satisfaction; but the realization of the significance of news permeates the masses here more slowly than in American cities.

The kaleidoscopic changes on the Shakhie have been too swift for the populace to follow, and so the better news from the front has been so far taken with comparative quiet. In the best informed circles, however, it is already accepted as true. It is believed that General Kuropatkin intended to signalize the czar's birthday by a victory just as the Grand Duke Nicholas did at Plevna.

The failure of the war office to give out dispatches is attributed to the holiday, the censor's commission disbanding early. The Associated Press, however, hears on good authority that the emperor has received a telegram from General Kuropatkin reporting that the Russians are moving forward.

Jap Reverse Not Yet Reported.
The reverse sustained by General Yamada's column has not yet been reported by General Kuropatkin or General Sakharoff except in a reference to an unsuccessful Japanese attack near Shakhie. A Mukden dispatch evidently refers to this affair in reporting that the Japanese left had been beaten off with terrible slaughter and its retreat cut off by a Russian army corps. Another press dispatch from Mukden confirms the news of the Russian advance, when telegraphing late last night, the correspondent says: "It is rumored that we are moving ahead."

There is no official confirmation here of the report from Tokio that a Russian attack on the Japanese right on Oct. 17 had been repulsed. If this report should prove true, it may involve serious consequences for the Russians who crossed the Shakhie while the river was fordable. According to the Associated Press Mukden dispatches the water has since risen man high in consequence of heavy rains and therefore it will be well nigh impossible for the Russian army to recross the river owing to the absence of bridges. It would be equally difficult for the same reason to bring up supplies and ammunition to enable General Kuropatkin to follow up the advance. This may explain the statement in a Mukden dispatch that the fighting was slackened the morning of Oct. 18.

WEINSEIMER FOUND GUILTY.

New York Labor Leader Convicted of Extortion.

New York, Oct. 19.—The jury in the case of Philip Weinsheimer, former president of the Building Trades Alliance, on trial for extortion, returned a verdict of guilty shortly before midnight Tuesday. He was at once remanded to the Tombs until Oct. 28, when sentence will be pronounced.

Weinsheimer has been on trial for more than a week in the court of special sessions. He was charged by George J. Essig, a master plumber, with extorting $2,700 from him under a threat not to permit work to continue on the Chatworth apartment house here unless the money were paid.

The jury retired late in the afternoon and on account of the length of time taken for deliberation Weinsheimer and his counsel expected a disagreement or acquittal.

When Weinsheimer heard the verdict he trembled and grasped the railing to steady himself. When his pedigree was taken he answered in a voice scarcely audible.

Mail Steamer Overdue.

St. Johns, N. F., Oct. 19.—Apprehension respecting the Labrador mail steamship Virginia Lake is increasing. She is now a week overdue. Besides her crew the Virginia Lake has on board several hundred men from the fishing fleets, the season having closed.

Johnson Defeats Ed Martin

Los Angeles, Oct. 19.—Jack Johnson (colored) of Los Angeles knocked out Denver Ed Martin last night in the second round. The fight was very fast while it lasted. Johnson's managers will issue a challenge on behalf of Johnson to Champion Jeffries.

PUGILIST IN DYING CONDITION.

Chicago Fighter May Die From Injuries in St. Paul.

St. Paul, Oct. 19.—Lying unconscious on a cot in St. Joseph's hospital, suffering from the effects of terrible right body blows, lies "Kid" Braun, a Chicago prize fighter, who last night fell a victim to the prowess of Jimmy Potts of Minneapolis in a ring at the Amateur Athletic association, 52 East Sixth street.

Braun was still unconscious at an early hour this morning and Police Surgeon Doran declares that the man was without doubt suffering from an internal hemorrhage of the brain. His condition is critical.

The police department has located the principals and officials connected with the affair, and they will be taken into custody if the fighter dies.

Braun was so badly punished in the second round of the fight that the wild appeals of a frenzied crowd of club members and their friends alone saved him from a worse fate than the one which eventually came to him.

HILL TALKS AT INDIANAPOLIS.

Former Senator Delivers an Address to a Crowded House.

Indianapolis, Oct. 18.—Former Senator David B. Hill of New York delivered an address before a Democratic mass meeting in Tomlinson hall last night. The hall was crowded to its capacity, many being turned away from the doors. Mr. Hill, accompanied by several prominent Democrats, was escorted to the hall by an illuminated procession. The Hon. John Dye, general counsel for the Big Four railroad, presided at the meeting and his introductory address was interrupted at intervals by loud calls for Hill.

Wonderful Results.

Mrs. C. A. Smith, of Holland, Mich., tells what a marvelous remedy "Gloria Tonic" is. She writes: "After suffering the tortures of rheumatism for years and after vainly employing doctors it was 'Gloria Tonic' which completely cured me." Sold by H. P. Dunn & Co. mwf

Bryan's Tour of Indiana.

Marion, Ind., Oct. 18.—The fifth day of William J. Bryan's tour of Indiana was closed with a speech before a mass meeting of Democrats in this city last night, which eclipsed the successes of the day both in enthusiasm and attendance. The itinerary included Lafayette, Lebanon, Frankfort, Delphi, Logansport, Converse and Marion.

College Destroyed by Fire.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 18.—A dispatch to the Banner from Pulaski, Tenn., says that fire destroyed the Martin Female college at that place, entailing a loss of $40,000. The occupants all escaped without injury.

CINCINNATI STRIKE SETTLED.

Coal Wagon Drivers and the Dealers Reach an Agreement.

Cincinnati, Oct. 19.—The coal wagon drivers' strike, which began two weeks ago, was brought to an end Tuesday and the general sympathetic strike scheduled for Wednesday among the stationary engineers, firemen and other crafts has been averted.

A delegation of union teamsters, headed by President Chris O'Neill of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, held a conference with the Coal Dealers' association and a satisfactory agreement was reached whereby the union men are to be reinstated and to be paid for extra time over 10 hours. The employers agree, while not recognizing the union, not to discriminate against union drivers. The agreement is a compromise, both sides making concessions.

A Stubborn Case!

Mr. Wm. Hessler of Muscoda, Wis., writes: "While taking the first box of Gloria Tonic for my rheumatic trouble I could not stand on my feet, while taking the second box I could walk across the room by pushing a chair ahead of me, and after taking the box I could husk corn and feed sixty head of hogs." Sold by H. P. Dunn & Co. mwf

DIVORCE ISSUE AGAIN UP.

But the Episcopal Convention Refers It to a Committee.

Boston, Oct. 19.—The divorce issue again came before the Episcopal convention Tuesday but no final action was taken on several resolutions referring to the subjects which were presented. The house of bishops sent a message to the deputies informing them that the bishops had voted to forbid the remarriage of any divorced persons, but when the matter was left before the deputies on the question of concurrence, after a spirited skirmish, the matter was referred to the committee on canons, from which it can be called at any time.

During the forenoon several resolutions favoring a stricter canon on marriage and divorce were referred to a committee.

SEEING THE FAIR IN DETAIL

Brazil and Her Fathomless Forests—A Little Display That Represents More Forests Than All Other Forestry Exhibits at the World's Fair—Brazil's Most Valuable Tree the Rubber Producer—Strange Winged Things in the Moth and Butterfly Cases—Barks That Do Remarkable Things in the Way of Tanning—Colonel Aguiar's Exquisite National Palace—The Human Chute of the Brazilian Fire Departments—Brazil Firemen as Manufacturers of Fire Apparatus.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE BY MARK BENNETT.]

Even so late in the season as this, one is filled with regret that the Palace of Forestry, Fish and Game was not made of rubber, so that Brazil might have had more room. I am sure Brazil could have furnished the rubber. The mention of rubber recalls a young lady's declaration: "Oh, I'm going to rubber and rubber to my heart's content. That's what I pay my 50 cents for." So we are all "rubbering" everywhere, till our necks protest with lameness.

Brazil! Vast beyond our appreciation! Wonderful beyond our comprehension! If you are losing flesh worrying over the future timber supply, if you are lying awake nights wondering where the succeeding generations are going to get cord wood to keep the family sawbuck from ennuil, just turn to Brazil. The Amazon forests contain 2,000,000 square miles of timber. Think of the village newspaper subscriptions still untouched in those billions of trees—and the paper pulp, too, if necessity arises! Two million square miles! Ten times the area of France! Two-thirds the area of the United States!

Here at the world's fair Brazil has a very narrow space—no more than a state allotment—but she was a late comer, and regrets are mutual. The Brazilian flora embraces more than 17,000 species. A vast expanse of the Amazon forests is inundated yearly, and it is here that the water loving trees grow in tropical luxuriance and density. Upon the uplands are the other forests, as old as Mount Ararat perhaps, and containing trees 300 feet high and infinite in variety. As well might you expect a prince's bride to crowd her trousseau into a collar box as to expect Brazil to display her woods in this narrow space. But she has made a brave effort and has ornamented it with cases of birds and reptiles and strange things of many sorts.

The tree of greatest value to Brazil and to the world at large is the Symphonia elastica, the tree that produces the India rubber of commerce and of manifold usefulness. Here are some huge round balls of the pure rubber, except for the smoke that has been put into it in the preparation of the material for export. The rubber gatherer prepares a stick, which he dips into the white milk sap of the rubber tree which he has gathered and then holds it in the smoke of an outdoor fire to coagulate. The dipping and smoking process goes on till a large ball is formed, and it is ready to ship to market. In 1902 Brazil shipped nearly $37,000,000 worth of raw rubber and imported only $500,000 worth of manufactured rubber products. The immense forests of northern Matto Grosso have not even been explored, and Brazil is able to assure the rest of the world that she has enough rubber for the world's uses for a long time to come.

Collectors of butterflies and moths are attracted by the several ornamental collections of these insects. Here is one of the emperor moths ten inches or more from tip to tip and worth $15 in the moth collector's catalogue. Brazil has many brilliant species of butterflies, from the changeable or iridescent blue to the variegated kinds of indefinite number. Very curious is the one known as the "living leaf," a large insect whose wings are the exact counterparts of tree or bush leaves. Why nature so carefully shields the identity of an insect and makes others so brilliant as to catch the eye is one of the mysteries of creation. It would take sharp eyes indeed to find a "living leaf" in its natural habitat, for in color and veining the wings are perfect leaves. Huge tarantulas are centerpieces in two collections. Such big fellows are the more deadly, as it seems to be a law of nature that the nature insects and reptiles of the poisonous species are the more to be feared. The bite of such a tarantula would very likely result fatally within a few hours.

Brazil has more kinds of barks than a dog show. Here are eighty-three varieties of barks, roots and woods whose chief value is in their tanning qualities. And with the tanning is the coloring, too, from a creamy chocolate to a brick red. These barks range in their richness from 22 to 35 per cent tannin, or nearly double the value of oak bark, one of the American tanning agents. Three of the barks are said to produce white leather, extracting from the hide all the coloring matter and depositing none. Another bark, the aruera, colors the leather black when tanning it. Other barks produce reds and blues. While tanning agents may become scarce in some parts of the world, the scarcity is only local. The forests of Brazil and other countries of South America are a guarantee of an abundance of tanning materials for generations to come.

Brazil is magnificent at the world's fair as well as in her place upon the map, where she occupies one-fifteenth of the land of the earth's surface. The Brazilian pavilion rises far above all other structures in the foreign section of the exposition, the central jewel in a tiara of incomparable gems. It is one of the landmarks for the transient visitor, who reckons the location of other things in the western part of the grounds by the white palace of Brazil. It is due to Colonel F. M. de Souza Aguiar, the commissioner general, to say that he designed and built this superb structure. Brazil appears in nearly all departments of the exposition with her innumerable products and evidences of progress. In education she shows her school buildings and equipment and the work of pupils. In fine arts are 167 exhibits by Brazilian artists. In liberal arts are samples of printing, photography, books and book binding, maps and apparatus for geography, cosmography and topography, weighing scales, musical instruments, pharmaceutical preparations, paper and engineering exhibits. Brazil is still too young a country to manufacture articles for export, but she has deemed it wise to prove to the world that she is in part supplying her home market with manufactured articles, such as cutlery, furniture, tools and implements of many kinds, stationery, jewelry, hardware, pottery, glass, fabrics of cotton, wool and silk, leather goods and wearing apparel. Her display in the electrical department shows the application of electricity rather than any attempt at manufacturing electrical apparatus.

When the cry of fire rings out on the night in a Brazilian city very much the same hubbub takes place as in a North American town. But Brazilians have one piece of apparatus we do not use. It is the human chute. It consists of a stout piece of canvas long enough to reach on an easy slant from the fourth or fifth story of a building to the ground. One end is hooked behind an upper story window sill and the other held securely below, while escaping occupants slide down with the utmost enjoyment, no doubt. In Brazil the firemen are trained to make all their own apparatus as an economic policy, which appears to work out most admirably, cultivating habits of industry among the men and making each member of the department more valuable than otherwise he would be.

Brazil's transportation exhibits embrace many fine things in saddlery and odd things in the way of vehicles and means of travel in regions remote from the large towns. In agriculture, forestry, mines and metallurgy, fish and game and anthropology Brazil is a country of incomparable resources.

Coffee is her greatest exhibit, and her displays are made upon the main floor of the government pavilion, where samples are served to the public. Here also the coffee hulling machinery may be seen in operation. Brazil's expenditure at the world's fair is $600,000. Fair Grounds, St. Louis.

RICH MAN TAKEN FOR VALET

Millionaire by Mistake Had Breakfast in Hotel Servants' Room.

R. G. Carter, president of a large rolling mill in Pittsburg, engaged a room on the fifth floor of the new Bellevue-Stratford hotel in Philadelphia the other night, says the New York World. The next morning he arose at 8:30 o'clock and started for breakfast. He got into an elevator and was dropped straight to the basement. By mistake he wandered into the dining room which is reserved for maids and valets.

Schiller, the head waiter, impressed by Mr. Carter's appearance, took the order himself.

The breakfast was brought on and Mr. Carter ate with a relish.

"This is certainly a fine hotel," said the Pittsburg millionaire. "Have you got my bill?"

"Sure thing," said Schiller. "Whose valet are you?"

"Whose —! Say, what the deuce is the matter with you?" Mr. Carter frowned as though his democratic spirit was about exhausted. Then he glanced at the yellow check, which was headed "Maid's Dining Room." The bill was 35 cents.

"You just sign that," said Schiller, "and your master will settle with the management."

"Oh, say," said Mr. Carter, "this is all a dreadful mistake. I am not a valet. I may be some day, but now I am only the president of a rolling mill company. I haven't any kind master to settle my bills. I'm a guest of this hotel."

When Mr. Carter got his bill the price of his breakfast had been marked up to $1.50. He paid it willingly.

Cocktails on Wheels.

The cocktail perambulator, a novelty in Philadelphia, was recently wheeled about for the first time by the waiters at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel, says the New York Herald. This is the way it works:

A patron orders a cocktail, and away goes the waiter. In a moment the thirsty one sees the perambulator approaching on two big rubber tired wheels. The waiter pushes the perambulator to the table where the patron is sitting, and it comes to a halt, maintaining its equilibrium by means of a rod, as does a hansom cab at rest. Then the waiter takes a glass, some shaved ice and other necessary ingredients from the perambulator, mixes the drink, serves it and wheels the machine away.

English Dining Table Novelty.

Seeking the ever to be desired "new thing," some of the English smart set have devised a new method of "passing the bottle," says the New York Herald. A tiny locomotive, driven by a motor concealed under real coal in the tender, draws on a track laid on the table miniature cars carrying various sorts of liquid refreshments.

VICTIMS OF HUNTERS.

Boy Dead and Woman Wounded Near Red Wing, Minn.

Red Wing, Minn., Oct. 19.—Edward Johnson, seventeen years old, was found dead in the woods ten miles north of town with a bullet wound in his head. He was hunting with some other boys who lost track of him in the woods. Whether it was a stray bullet from the gun of one of his own party or from that of some other hunter is not known.

Mrs. Herder, an elderly woman who lives near Frontenac, was shot in the shoulder by parties unknown who were not far off in the woods.

Democratic Candidate Puts in a Busy Day.

Hinton, W. Va., Oct. 18.—Eight speeches was the record of the Democratic candidate, Henry G. Davis, Monday. The principal meetings were at Charleston, where the special train remained four hours; at Hinton and at Roncoveite, the latter place being reached shortly after 9 o'clock. The speechmaking Monday devolved upon Mr. Davis, Senator Daniel, John P. McGraw and Wood Bailey.

A fire in the governor's mansion at Charleston, an alarm for which was turned in as the meeting was in progress, created some disturbance at the meeting at that place, especially as it was hastily rumored that it was a trick to break up the meeting. The fire did little damage either to the mansion or the meeting.

"An' who is Josiah Quincy?" demanded the other.

"Don't ye know who Josiah Quincy is?" demanded the first man. "I never saw sich ignorance. Why, he's the grandson of the statue out there in the yard."

CAN'T KEEP IT UP.

Can't Deceive Brainerd People Very Long—They Learn Quickly.

It is sometimes an easy matter to fool the public, but you can't keep it up very long. They are sure to find you out; and every time a man is fooled another skeptic is made. We are naturally skeptical when reading a published statement given by some stranger residing in a far-away place but the circumstances are entirely different when home endorsement is presented. The testimony of local citizens renders deceit impossible. It is so easy for you to investigate. Read this case:

Mrs. Moses Derocher of 807, 7th street south says: "Low down in the small part of my back there was a pain very distressing by spells becoming much worse and causing me discomfort to say the least. My husband bought a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the nearest drug store and I started taking them. The medicine which I used failed to help me but I can truthfully bear witness that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved my backache entirely and corrected a disorder of the kidneys which accompanied the backache."

Former Senator Delivers an Address to a Crowded House.

Indianapolis, Oct. 18.—Former Senator David B. Hill of New York delivered an address before a Democratic mass meeting in Tomlinson hall last night. The hall was crowded to its capacity, many being turned away from the doors. Mr. Hill, accompanied by several prominent Democrats, was escorted to the hall by an illuminated procession. The Hon. John Dye, general counsel for the Big Four railroad, presided at the meeting and his introductory address was interrupted at intervals by loud calls for Hill.

SEEING THE FAIR IN DETAIL

Brazil and Her Fathomless Forests—A Little Display That Represents More Forests Than All Other Forestry Exhibits at the World's Fair—Brazil's Most Valuable Tree the Rubber Producer—Strange Winged Things in the Moth and Butterfly Cases—Barks That Do Remarkable Things in the Way of Tanning—Colonel Aguiar's Exquisite National Palace—The Human Chute of the Brazilian Fire Departments—Brazil Firemen as Manufacturers of Fire Apparatus.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE BY MARK BENNETT.]

Even so late in the season as this, one is filled with regret that the Palace of Forestry, Fish and Game was not made of rubber, so that Brazil might have had more room. I am sure Brazil could have furnished the rubber. The mention of rubber recalls a young lady's declaration: "Oh, I'm going to rubber and rubber to my heart's content. That's what I pay my 50 cents for." So we are all "rubbering" everywhere, till our necks protest with lameness.

Brazil! Vast beyond our apprehension! Wonderful beyond our comprehension! If you are losing flesh worrying over the future timber supply, if you are lying awake nights wondering where the succeeding generations are going to get cord wood to keep the family sawbuck from ennuil, just turn to Brazil. The Amazon forests contain 2,000,000 square miles of timber. Think of the village newspaper subscriptions still untouched in those billions of trees—and the paper pulp, too, if necessity arises! Two million square miles! Ten times the area of France! Two-thirds the area of the United States!

Here at the world's fair Brazil has a very narrow space—no more than a state allotment—but she was a late comer, and regrets are mutual. The Brazilian flora embraces more than 17,000 species. A vast expanse of the Amazon forests is inundated yearly, and it is here that the water loving trees grow in tropical luxuriance and density. Upon the uplands are the other forests, as old as Mount Ararat perhaps, and containing trees 300 feet high and infinite in variety. As well might you expect a prince's bride to crowd her trousseau into a collar box as to expect Brazil to display her woods in this narrow space. But she has made a brave effort and has ornamented it with cases of birds and reptiles and strange things of many sorts.

The tree of greatest value to Brazil and to the world at large is the Symphonia elastica, the tree that produces the india rubber of commerce and of manifold usefulness. Here are some huge round balls of the pure rubber, except for the smoke that has been put into it in the preparation of the material for export. The rubber gatherer prepares a stick, which he dips into the white milk sap of the rubber tree which he has gathered and then holds it in the smoke of an outdoor fire to coagulate. The dipping and smoking process goes on till a large ball is formed, and it is ready to ship to market. In 1902 Brazil shipped nearly $37,000,000 worth of raw rubber and imported only $500,000 worth of manufactured rubber products. The immense forests of northern Matto Grosso have not even been explored, and Brazil is able to assure the rest of the world that she has enough rubber for the world's uses for a long time to come.

Collectors of butterflies and moths are attracted by the several ornamental collections of these insects. Here is one of the emperor moths ten inches or more from tip to tip and worth $15 in the moth collector's catalogue. Brazil has many brilliant species of butterflies, from the changeable or iridescent blue to the variegated kinds of infinite number. Very curious is the one known as the "living leaf," a large insect whose wings are the exact counterparts of tree or bush leaves. Why nature so carefully shields the identity of one insect and makes others so brilliant as to catch the eye is one of the mysteries of creation. It would take sharp eyes indeed to find a "living leaf" in its natural habitat, for in color and veining the wings are perfect leaves. Huge tarantulas are centerpieces in two collections. Such big fellows are the more deadly, as it seems to be a law of nature that the mature insects and reptiles of the poisonous species are the more to be feared. The bite of such a tarantula would very likely result fatally within a few hours.

Brazil has more kinds of barks than a dog show. Here are eighty-three varieties of barks, roots and woods whose chief value is in their tanning qualities. And with the tanning is the coloring, too, from a creamy chocolate to a brick red. These barks range in their richness from 22 to 35 per cent tannin, or nearly double the value of oak bark, one of the American tanning agents. Three of the barks are said to produce white leather, extracting from the hide all the coloring matter and depositing none. Another bark, the arum, colors the leather black when tanning it. Other barks produce reds and blues. While tanning agents may become scarce in some parts of the world, the scarcity is only local. The forests of Brazil and other countries of South America are a guarantee of an abundance of tanning materials for generations to come.

Brazil is magnificent at the world's fair as well as in her place upon the map, where she occupies one-fiftieth of the land of the earth's surface. The Brazilian pavilion rises far above all other structures in the foreign section of the exposition, the central jewel in a tiara of incomparable gems. It is one of the landmarks for the transient visitor, who reckons the location of other things in the western part of the grounds by the white palace of Brazil. It is due to Colonel F. M. de Souza Aguiar, the commissioner general, to say that he designed and built this superb structure. Brazil appears in nearly all departments of the exposition with her innumerable products and evidences of progress. In education she shows her school buildings and equipment and the work of pupils. In fine arts are 167 exhibits by Brazilian artists. In liberal arts are samples of printing, photography, books and book binding, maps and apparatus for geography, cosmography and topography, weighing scales, musical instruments, pharmaceutical preparations, paper and engineering exhibits. Brazil is still too young a country to manufacture articles for export, but she has deemed it wise to prove to the world that she is in part supplying her home market with manufactured articles, such as cutlery, furniture, tools and implements of many kinds, stationery, jewelry, hardware, pottery, glass, fabrics of cotton, wool and silk, leather goods and wearing apparel. Her display in the electrical department shows the application of electricity rather than any attempt at manufacturing electrical apparatus.

When the cry of fire rings out on the night in a Brazilian city very much the same hubbub takes place as in a North American town. But Brazilians have one piece of apparatus we do not use. It is the human chute. It consists of a stout piece of canvas long enough to reach on an easy slant from the fourth or fifth story of a building to the ground. One end is hooked behind an upper story window sill and the other held securely below, while escaping occupants slide down with the utmost enjoyment, no doubt. In Brazil the firemen are trained to make all their own apparatus as an economic policy, which appears to work out most admirably, cultivating habits of industry among the men and making each member of the department more valuable than otherwise he would be.

Brazil's transportation exhibits embrace many fine things in saddlery and odd things in the way of vehicles and means of travel in regions remote from the large towns. In agriculture, forestry, mines and metallurgy, fish and game and anthropology Brazil is a country of incomparable resources. Coffee is her greatest exhibit, and her displays are made upon the main floor of the government pavilion, where samples are served to the public. Here also the coffee hulling machinery may be seen in operation. Brazil's expenditure at the world's fair is $800,000. Fair Grounds, St. Louis.

RICH MAN TAKEN FOR VALET

Millionaire by Mistake Had Breakfast in Hotel Servants' Room.

R. G. Carter, president of a large rolling mill in Pittsburgh, engaged a room on the fifth floor of the new Bellevue-Stratford hotel in Philadelphia the other night, says the New York World. The next morning he arose at 8:30 o'clock and started for breakfast. He got into an elevator and was dropped straight to the basement. By mistake he wandered into the dining room which is reserved for maids and valets.

Schiller, the head waiter, impressed by Mr. Carter's appearance, took the order himself.

The breakfast was brought on and Mr. Carter ate with a relish.

"This is certainly a fine hotel," said the Pittsburgh millionaire. "Have you got my bill?"

"Sure thing," said Schiller. "Whose valet are you?"

"Whose —! Say, what the deuce is the matter with you?" Mr. Carter frowned as though his democratic spirit was about exhausted. Then he glanced at the yellow check, which was headed "Maid's Dining Room." The bill was 35 cents.

"You just sign that," said Schiller, "and your master will settle with the management."

"Oh, say," said Mr. Carter, "this is all a dreadful mistake. I am not a valet, I may be some day, but now I am only the president of a rolling mill company. I haven't any kind master to settle my bills. I'm a guest of this hotel."

When Mr. Carter got his bill the price of his breakfast had been marked up to $1.50. He paid it willingly.

Cocktails on Wheels.

The cocktail perambulator, a novelty in Philadelphia, was recently wheeled about for the first time by the waiters at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel, says the New York Herald. This is the way it works:

A patron orders a cocktail, and away goes the waiter. In a moment the thirsty one sees the perambulator approaching on two big rubber tired wheels. The waiter pushes the perambulator to the table where the patron is sitting, and it comes to a halt, maintaining its equilibrium by means of a rod, as does a hansom cab at rest. Then the waiter takes a glass, some shaved ice and other necessary ingredients from the perambulator, mixes the drink, serves it and wheels the machine away.

English Dining Table Novelty.

Seeking the ever to be desired "new thing," some of the English smart set have devised a new method of "passing the bottle," says the New York Herald. A tiny locomotive, driven by a motor concealed under real coal in the tender, draws on a track laid on the table miniature cars carrying various sorts of liquid refreshments.

DAVIS MAKES EIGHT SPEECHES.

Democratic Candidate Puts in a Busy Day.

Hinton, W. Va., Oct. 18.—Eight speeches was the record of the Democratic candidate, Henry G. Davis, Monday. The principal meetings were at Charleston, where the special train remained four hours; at Hinton and at Roncove, the latter place being reached shortly after 9 o'clock. The speechmaking Monday devolved upon Mr. Davis, Senator Daniel, John P. McGraw and Wood Bailey.

A fire in the governor's mansion at Charleston, an alarm for which was turned in as the meeting was in progress, created some disturbance at the meeting at that place, especially as it was hastily rumored that it was a trick to break up the meeting. The fire did little damage either to the mansion or the meeting.

CAN'T KEEP IT UP.

Can't Deceive Brainerd People Very Long—They Learn Quickly.

It is sometimes an easy matter to fool the public, but you can't keep it up very long. They are sure to find you out; and every time a man is fooled another skeptic is made. We are naturally skeptical when reading a published statement given by some stranger residing in a far away place but the circumstances are entirely different when home endorsement is presented. The testimony of local citizens renders deceit impossible. It is so easy for you to investigate. Read this case:

Mrs. Moses Derocher of 807, 7th street south says: "Low down in the small part of my back there was a pain very distressing by spells becoming much worse and causing me discomfort to say the least. My husband bought a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the nearest drug store and I started taking them. The medicine which I used failed to help me but I can truthfully bear witness that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved my backache entirely and corrected a disorder of the kidneys which accompanied the backache."

RUSSIANS ARE JOYFUL

REPORT OF KUROPATKIN'S ADVANCE AROUSES GREAT ENTHUSIASM.

SITUATION NOT VERY CLEAR

RUSSIANS MAY BE CUT OFF FROM RESERVES BY THE RAPIDLY RISING RIVERS.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 19.—There is jubilation throughout the city over the news that General Kuropatkin has resumed the offensive, and the holiday, which began with little heart, closed brighter. The crowds in the streets and the illuminations in honor of the czar's birthday gave a tinge of brilliancy to an evening otherwise depressing, through a constant drizzle of rain. Newsboys up to midnight raced through the thoroughfares with evening extras, shouting "great Russian victory" and crowds bought the papers. Groups of men in brilliant uniforms or in evening dress at the hotels and restaurants discussed the change in the fortunes of war; but the population as a whole were slow to take fire. They had received the news of the earlier reverses stolidly and now accepted reports of Russian successes and the capture of guns quietly, with satisfaction but with considerable reserve.

Arouses Great Satisfaction. Correspondents at the front the past forty-eight hours had been hinting that the Russian army was on the eve of another advance; but it was thought here that the troops were too exhausted by more than a week of titanic struggle to engage in an immediate advance movement. Therefore the news of the definite resumption of the advance was calculated to arouse the greater satisfaction; but the realization of the significance of news permeates the masses here more slowly than in American cities.

The kaleidoscopic changes on the Shakh have been too swift for the populace to follow, and so the better news from the front has been so far taken with comparative quiet. In the best informed circles, however, it is already accepted as true. It is believed that General Kuropatkin intended to signalize the czar's birthday by a victory just as the Grand Duke Nicholas did at Plevna.

The failure of the war office to give out dispatches is attributed to the holiday, the censor's commission disbanding early. The Associated Press, however, hears on good authority that the emperor has received a telegram from General Kuropatkin reporting that the Russians are moving forward.

Jap Reverse Not Yet Reported. The reverse sustained by General Yamada's column has not yet been reported by General Kuropatkin or General Sakharoff except in a reference to an unsuccessful Japanese attack near Shakh. A Mukden dispatch evidently refers to this affair in reporting that the Japanese left had been beaten off with terrible slaughter and its retreat cut off by a Russian army corps. Another press dispatch from Mukden confirms the news of the Russian advance, when telegraphing late last night, the correspondent says: "It is rumored that we are moving ahead."

There is no official confirmation here of the report from Tokio that a Russian attack on the Japanese right on Oct. 17 had been repulsed. If this report should prove true, it may involve serious consequences for the Russians who crossed the Shakh while the river was fordable. According to the Associated Press Mukden dispatches the water has since risen man high in consequence of heavy rains and therefore it will be well nigh impossible for the Russian army to recross the river owing to the absence of bridges. It would be equally difficult for the same reason to bring up supplies and ammunition to enable General Kuropatkin to follow up the advance. This may explain the statement in a Mukden dispatch that the fighting was slackened the morning of Oct. 18.

WEINSEIMER FOUND GUILTY.

New York Labor Leader Convicted of Extortion.

New York, Oct. 19.—The jury in the case of Philip Weinsheimer, former president of the Building Trades Alliance, on trial for extortion, returned a verdict of guilty shortly before midnight Tuesday. He was at once remanded to the Tombs until Oct. 23, when sentence will be pronounced. Weinsheimer has been on trial for more than a week in the court of special sessions. He was charged by George J. Essig, a master plumber, with extorting $2,700 from him under a threat not to permit work to continue on the Chatworth apartment house here unless the money were paid.

The jury retired late in the afternoon and on account of the length of time taken for deliberation Weinsheimer and his counsel expected a disagreement or acquittal.

When Weinsheimer heard the verdict he trembled and grasped the railing to steady himself. When his pedigree was taken he answered in a voice scarcely audible.

PUGILIST IN DYING CONDITION.

Chicago Fighter May Die From Injuries in St. Paul.

St. Paul, Oct. 19.—Lying unconscious on a cot in St. Joseph's hospital, suffering from the effects of terrific right body blows, lies "Kid" Braun, a Chicago prize fighter, who last night fell a victim to the prowess of Jimmy Potts of Minneapolis in a ring at the Amateur Athletic association, 32 East Sixth street.

Braun was still unconscious at an early hour this morning and Police Surgeon Doran declares that the man was without doubt suffering from an internal hemorrhage of the brain. His condition is critical.

The police department has located the principals and officials connected with the affair, and they will be taken into custody if the fighter dies.

Braun was so badly punished in the second round of the fight that the wild appeals of a frenzied crowd of club members and their friends alone saved him from a worse fate than the one which eventually came to him.

Collectors of butterflies and moths are attracted by the several ornamental collections of these insects. Here is one of the emperor moths ten inches or more from tip to tip and worth $15 in the moth collector's catalogue. Brazil has many brilliant species of butterflies, from the changeable or iridescent blue to the variegated kinds of infinite number. Very curious is the one known as the "living leaf," a large insect whose wings are the exact counterparts of tree or bush leaves. Why nature so carefully shields the identity of one insect and makes others so brilliant as to catch the eye is one of the mysteries of creation. It would take sharp eyes indeed to find a "living leaf" in its natural habitat, for in color and veining the wings are perfect leaves. Huge tarantulas are centerpieces in two collections. Such big fellows are the more deadly, as it seems to be a law of nature that the mature insects and reptiles of the poisonous species are the more to be feared. The bite of such a tarantula would very likely result fatally within a few hours.

Brazil has more kinds of barks than a dog show. Here are eighty-three varieties of barks, roots and woods whose chief value is in their tanning qualities. And with the tanning is the coloring, too, from a creamy chocolate to a brick red. These barks range in their richness from 22 to 35 per cent tannin, or nearly double the value of oak bark, one of the American tanning agents. Three of the barks are said to produce white leather, extracting from the hide all the coloring matter and depositing none. Another bark, the arum, colors the leather black when tanning it. Other barks produce reds and blues. While tanning agents may become scarce in some parts of the world, the scarcity is only local. The forests of Brazil and other countries of South America are a guarantee of an abundance of tanning materials for generations to come.

Brazil is magnificent at the world's fair as well as in her place upon the map, where she occupies one-fiftieth of the land of the earth's surface. The Brazilian pavilion rises far above all other structures in the foreign section of the exposition, the central jewel in a tiara of incomparable gems. It is one of the landmarks for the transient visitor, who reckons the location of other things in the western part of the grounds by the white palace of Brazil. It is due to Colonel F. M. de Souza Aguiar, the commissioner general, to say that he designed and built this superb structure. Brazil appears in nearly all departments of the exposition with her innumerable products and evidences of progress. In education she shows her school buildings and equipment and the work of pupils. In fine arts are 167 exhibits by Brazilian artists. In liberal arts are samples of printing, photography, books and book binding, maps and apparatus for geography, cosmography and topography, weighing scales, musical instruments, pharmaceutical preparations, paper and engineering exhibits. Brazil is still too young a country to manufacture articles for export, but she has deemed it wise to prove to the world that she is in part supplying her home market with manufactured articles, such as cutlery, furniture, tools and implements of many kinds, stationery, jewelry, hardware, pottery, glass, fabrics of cotton, wool and silk, leather goods and wearing apparel. Her display in the electrical department shows the application of electricity rather than any attempt at manufacturing electrical apparatus.

When the cry of fire rings out on the night in a Brazilian city very much the same hubbub takes place as in a North American town. But Brazilians have one piece of apparatus we do not use. It is the human chute. It consists of a stout piece of canvas long enough to reach on an easy slant from the fourth or fifth story of a building to the ground. One end is hooked behind an upper story window sill and the other held securely below, while escaping occupants slide down with the utmost enjoyment, no doubt. In Brazil the firemen are trained to make all their own apparatus as an economic policy, which appears to work out most admirably, cultivating habits of industry among the men and making each member of the department more valuable than otherwise he would be.

Brazil's transportation exhibits embrace many fine things in saddlery and odd things in the way of vehicles and means of travel in regions remote from the large towns. In agriculture, forestry, mines and metallurgy, fish and game and anthropology Brazil is a country of incomparable resources.

Coffee is her greatest exhibit, and her displays are made upon the main floor of the government pavilion, where samples are served to the public. Here also the coffee hulling machinery may be seen in operation. Brazil's expenditure at the world's fair is $600,000. Fair Grounds, St. Louis.

RICH MAN TAKEN FOR VALET

Millionaire by Mistake Had Breakfast in Hotel Servants' Room.

R. G. Carter, president of a large rolling mill in Pittsburg, engaged a room on the fifth floor of the new Bellevue-Stratford hotel in Philadelphia the other night, says the New York World. The next morning he arose at 8:30 o'clock and started for breakfast. He got into an elevator and was dropped straight to the basement. By mistake he wandered into the dining room which is reserved for maids and valets.

Schiller, the head waiter, impressed by Mr. Carter's appearance, took the order himself.

The breakfast was brought on and Mr. Carter ate with a relish.

"This is certainly a fine hotel," said the Pittsburg millionaire. "Have you got my bill?"

"Sure thing," said Schiller. "Whose valet are you?"

"Whose?—I say, what the deuce is the matter with you?" Mr. Carter frowned as though his democratic spirit was about exhausted. Then he glanced at the yellow check, which was headed "Maid's Dining Room." The bill was 35 cents.

"You just sign that," said Schiller, "and your master will settle with the management."

"Oh, say," said Mr. Carter, "this is all a dreadful mistake. I am not a valet, I may be some day, but now I am only the president of a rolling mill company. I haven't any kind master to settle my bills. I'm a guest of this hotel."

When Mr. Carter got his bill the price of his breakfast had been marked up to $1.50. He paid it willingly.

Cocktails on Wheels.

The cocktail perambulator, a novelty in Philadelphia, was recently wheeled about for the first time by the waiters at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel, says the New York Herald. This is the way it works:

A patron orders a cocktail, and away goes the waiter. In a moment the thirsty one sees the perambulator approaching on two big rubber tired wheels. The waiter pushes the perambulator to the table where the patron is sitting, and it comes to a halt, maintaining its equilibrium by means of a rod, as does a hansom cab at rest. Then the waiter takes a glass, some shaved ice and other necessary ingredients from the perambulator, mixes the drink, serves it and wheels the machine away.

English Dining Table Novelty.

Seeing the ever to be desired "new thing," some of the English smart set have devised a new method of "passing the bottle," says the New York Herald. A tiny locomotive, driven by a motor concealed under real coal in the tender, draws on a track laid on the table miniature cars carrying various sorts of liquid refreshments.

VICTIMS OF HUNTERS.

Boy Dead and Woman Wounded Near Red Wing, Minn.

Red Wing, Minn., Oct. 19.—Edward Johnson, seventeen years old, was found dead in the woods ten miles north of town with a bullet wound in his head. He was hunting with some other boys who lost track of him in the woods. Whether it was a stray bullet from the gun of one of his own party or from that of some other hunter is not known.

Mrs. Herder, an elderly woman who lives near Frontenac, was shot in the shoulder by parties unknown who were not far off in the woods.

J. C. Hanson, Rhinelander—Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is the greatest tonic I have ever used. Gained 55 pounds in ninety days. Tea or tablets, 35 cents. H. P. Dunn & Co.

DAVIS MAKES EIGHT SPEECHES.

Democratic Candidate Puts in a Busy Day.

Hinton, W. Va., Oct. 18.—Eight speeches was the record of the Democratic candidate, Henry G. Davis, Monday. The principal meetings were at Charleston, where the special train remained four hours; at Hinton and at Ronceverte, the latter place being reached shortly after 9 o'clock. The speechmaking Monday devolved upon Mr. Davis, Senator Daniel, John P. McGraw and Wood Bailey.

A fire in the governor's mansion at Charleston, an alarm for which was turned in as the meeting was in progress, created some disturbance at the meeting at that place, especially as it was hastily rumored that it was a trick to break up the meeting. The fire did little damage either to the mansion or the meeting.

The "life-line" is out; extending the "glad hand" of life, hope, and happiness Reaches around the globe. 'Tis Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, tea or tablets. H. P. Dunn & Co.

How He Was Identified.

Josiah Quincy of Boston told with glee of how he was once identified by a laborer who was enlightening a friend. "That is Josiah Quincy," said the first laborer.

"An' who is Josiah Quincy?" demanded the other.

"Don't ye know who Josiah Quincy is?" demanded the first man. "I never saw sich ignorance. Why, he's the grandson of the statue out there in the yard."

CAN'T KEEP IT UP.

Can't Deceive Brainerd People Very Long—They Learn Quickly.

It is sometimes an easy matter to fool the public, but you can't keep it up very long. They are sure to find you out; and every time a man is fooled, another skeptic is made. We are naturally skeptical when reading a published statement given by some stranger residing in a far-away place but the circumstances are entirely different when home endorsement is presented. The testimony of local citizens renders deceit impossible. It is so easy for you to investigate. Read this case:

Mrs. Moses Derocher of 807, 7th street south says: "Low down in the small part of my back there was a pain very distressing by spells becoming much worse and causing me discomfort to say the least. My husband bought a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the nearest drug store and I started taking them. The medicine which I used failed to help me but I can truthfully bear witness that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved my backache entirely and corrected a disorder of the kidneys which accompanied the backache."

Sold for 50 cents a box by H. P. Dunn & Co. and all druggists. Foster Millburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

EDWARD CRUST

A CANDIDATE

Popular 3rd Ward Gentleman Has Yielded to the Wishes of Friends and Will be

A CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

Announces this Afternoon that After Considering the Matter He Will Make Run.

Edward Crust, alderman from the Third ward, has consented to become a candidate for mayor yielding to the urgent request from his many friends in the city from both republican and democratic sources. A delegation waited upon him last evening and requested that he allow the use of his name and pledging him their undivided support and while Mr. Crust did not at once consent, after interviewing his friends and carefully looking the field over he has late this afternoon decided to stand for the republican nomination and makes this announcement.

Mr. Crust is well known in the city, having been a member of the city council for some years and is at present president of that body. He is probably as well versed in city affairs as any other one man in Brainerd today and his entrance into the race will add spice to the already lively campaign.

SEWER WILL REMAIN

Interesting Meeting Held on Monday Evening in the Y. M. C. A. Parlors—An Excellent Program

The Young Men's club met in the Y. M. C. A. parlors on Monday evening and an excellent program was rendered consisting of a vocal solo by Harry Butts, and an instrumental solo and recitation by Ernest Simpson. This was followed by a debate on the question, "Resolved that the Diagonal Crossing of the Park is the Most Advantageous course for the Sewer". The judges' report was in favor of the affirmative. The affirmative side was taken by Everett Doran, J. H. Johnson and Prof. Santee and the negative by A. A. Pearce, Ray Butts and C. B. Stickney.

A Correction

Through a misunderstanding an erroneous announcement was made relative to the meeting of the Art club. The public meeting, with program, will be held at the high school Saturday at 2 o'clock. The Wednesday night meeting is one for the committee. Saturday, 2 p. m. "And don't you forget it."

Apples at Reasonable Price.

I will have a car of fine Michigan apples tomorrow and will sell at reasonable price. Call and see them and make your own selections. Will make all deliveries to all points in town.

Cor. 6th and Front Sts.

Announcement.

Brainerd, Minn., Oct. 18, 1904.
To the people of Brainerd.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the republican nomination for mayor. If elected I shall perform the duties of the office to the best of my ability. I shall endeavor to have the entire affairs of the city conducted in a business-like way which will be to the advantage of all our people.

Respectfully yours,
P. M. ZAKARIASEN.

Were Delightfully Entertained.

Miss Sara D. Blotky, reader and reciter, was at the First Congregational church last night giving a reading from "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" and one or two other interesting selections. The entertainment which Miss Blotky gave is entirely new and novel and was extremely interesting. The lady is possessed of a manner of grace that at once appeals to the finer senses and the display of intelligence in the reading of her lines at the outset creates an interest in the hearer which increases in intensity throughout the evening. She did some exceptional work last evening and the church should have been packed.

FOUND HE HAD A SNUG FORTUNE

Olaf Johnson, Presumably Without Friends or Home, Died Monday at St. Joseph's

BUT WAS FOUND HE HAD MONEY

Said Nothing About his Affairs Before Death and he was Thought to be Poor

A man may be alone without friends or relatives in this world, but if he is possessed of a goodly sum of the coin of the realm, he is anything but a lonely man. A peculiar case has come to light in this city.

Olaf Johnson went to St. Joseph's hospital a short time ago for treatment but he died on Monday last and his remains were taken to the D. M. Clark & Co. morgue to await the disposition of relatives, if the old man had any. While at the hospital he paid his bills promptly, but his general appearance and demeanor did not indicate that he was worth anything in the sense of having means.

After his death an examination of his affairs disclosed the fact that the old gentleman had in his possession certificates of deposit representing sums in some of the banks of Bismarck and Mandan, N. D., aggregating $13,990.

Besides this he had a note for $500, making his total fortune over $14,000 nearly all in cash.

From papers in his pocket it was learned that he had a friend living in Minneapolis by the name of Magnus Johnson. Judge Sanborn, of the probate court, took the matter up with Mr. Johnson and he has been in the city lending such assistance as he can to settle the estate. He states so far as he knows the old gentleman had no relatives in this country, and he does not know that he had any in the old country. He has been very reticent about giving out any information regarding his financial affairs and Mr. Johnson states that he did not realize the old man had as much money.

A lot was purchased in Evergreen cemetery and the deceased will be given a decent burial while Judge Sanborn will make an effort to find a legal heir to the estate or make such other disposition as the law requires.

A CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

Announces this Afternoon that After Considering the Matter He Will Make Run.

Edward Crust, alderman from the Third ward, has consented to become a candidate for mayor yielding to the urgent request from his many friends in the city from both republican and democratic sources. A delegation waited upon him last evening and requested that he allow the use of his name and pledging him their undivided support and while Mr. Crust did not at once consent, after interviewing his friends and carefully looking the field over he has late this afternoon decided to stand for the republican nomination and makes this announcement.

Mr. Crust is well known in the city, having been a member of the city council for some years and is at present president of that body. He is probably as well versed in city affairs as any other one man in Brainerd today and his entrance into the race will add spice to the already lively campaign.

SEWER WILL REMAIN

Interesting Meeting Held on Monday Evening in the Y. M. C. A. Parlors—An Excellent Program

The Young Men's club met in the Y. M. C. A. parlors on Monday evening and an excellent program was rendered consisting of a vocal solo by Harry Butts, and an instrumental solo and recitation by Ernest Simpson. This was followed by a debate on the question, "Resolved that the Diagonal Crossing of the Park is the Most Advantageous course for the Sewer". The judges report was in favor of the affirmative. The affirmative side was taken by Everett Doran, J. H. Johnson and Prof. Santee and the negative by A. A. Pearce, Ray Butts and C. B. Stickney.

A Correction

Through a misunderstanding an erroneous announcement was made relative to the meeting of the Art club. The public meeting, with program, will be held at the high school Saturday at 2 o'clock. The Wednesday night meeting is one for the committee. Saturday, 2 p. m. "And don't you forget it."

Apples at Reasonable Price.

I will have a car of fine Michigan apples tomorrow and will sell at reasonable price. Call and see them and make your own selections. Will make all deliveries to all points in town.

Miss Sara D. Blotky, reader and reciter, was at the First Congregational church last night giving a reading from "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" and one or two other interesting selections. The entertainment which Miss Blotky gave is entirely new and novel and was extremely interesting. The lady is possessed of a manner of grace that at once appeals to the finer senses and the display of intelligence in the reading of her lines at the outset creates an interest in the hearer which increases in intensity throughout the evening. She did some exceptional work last evening and the church should have been packed.

FOUND HE HAD #### A SNUG FORTUNE

Olaf Johnson, Presumably Without Friends or Home, Died Monday at St. Joseph's

BUT WAS FOUND HE HAD MONEY

Said Nothing About his Affairs Before Death and he was Thought to be Poor

A man may be alone without friends or relatives in this world, but if he is possessed of a goodly sum of the coin of the realm, he is anything but a lonely man. A peculiar case has come to light in this city.

Olaf Johnson went to St. Joseph's hospital a short time ago for treatment but he died on Monday last and his remains were taken to the D. M. Clark & Co. morgue to await the disposition of relatives, if the old man had any. While at the hospital he paid his bills promptly, but his general appearance and demeanor did not indicate that he was worth anything in the sense of having means.

After his death an examination of his affairs disclosed the fact that the old gentleman had in his possession certificates of deposit representing sums in some of the banks of Bismarck and Mandan, N. D., aggregating $13,900.

Besides this he had a note for $500, making his total fortune over $14,000 nearly all in cash.

From papers in his pocket it was learned that he had a friend living in Minneapolis by the name of Magnus Johnson. Judge Sanborn, of the probate court, took the matter up with Mr. Johnson and he has been in the city lending such assistance as he can to settle the estate. He states so far as he knows the old gentleman had no relatives in this country, and he does not know that he had any in the old country. He has been very reticent about giving out any information regarding his financial affairs and Mr. Johnson states that he did not realize the old man had as much money.

A lot was purchased in Evergreen cemetery and the deceased will be given a decent burial while Judge Sanborn will make an effort to find a legal heir to the estate or make such other disposition as the law requires.

ON THE GRIDIRON

The Brainerd high school team was out last night for practice again and the boys were enthusiastic in their work. The team is said to be the fastest high school team that Brainerd has ever had. They will play the Little Falls team in this city on Saturday afternoon at Athletic park. It will be the first genuine game of football in this city this year between a home team and an outside team and it should be very interesting.

BARGAIN SALE

Anything at a Bargain means almost given away. A man might advertise a cut-price sale, what is that when you know he sold his goods too high in the first place. Another man might advertise a great reduction sale and still want to make a good profit on his goods, and another one also that would like to be in it, would try and get up an old scheme that has been worked to death for years in the larger cities, as the fake telegram and fire sales, another old one, railroad wreck, but the real genuine stuff in BIG BARGAINS is at MARK'S GREAT BARGAIN STORE, the Greatest Bargain Place in the city, and this is what you will find there as thousands have before you.
